Our Lenten School Project for this year is focused on the book Have You Filled a Bucket Today? A Guide to Daily Happiness for Kids. In this book, the bucket is a metaphor for people's spirit. It talks about filling other people's buckets through loving, caring, actions. In addition, when you are filling someone else's bucket, your bucket gets filled too. The book also talks about bucket dipping, which is when someone is negative or a bully. We talked about the book and then made our Lenten promises on hearts that are filling buckets in the hallways. Throughout Lent we will have several "bucket filling" activities and we are asking for you to reinforce bucket filling at home. Students will be taking turns bringing home the book to read with families. When it is your families turn to have the book, please take the time to read and talk about it with your child. You will have the book for one evening. It is a short children's story that carries a powerful message. The adult version is How Full Is Your Bucket? Positive Strategies for Work and Life by Tom Rath and Donald O. Clifton. Thank you for helping us reinforce our faith through this season of Lent. May you have a blessed experience as we journey closer to Easter and deepening our relationship with our Savior. Betty Popp
